

Contributors

Texts

Bruno Aguilera Barchet

Director of the university research institute, “Institute for International Legal Studies” and member of the Academic Council of the Centre for European Studies (Brussels), Bruno Aguilera Barchet is professor of comparative legal history at the University of Madrid. He was guest researcher at the Harvard Law School and he is at present guest professor in the Universities of Milan and Paris. He was also Deputy Chairman of the University “Rey Juan Carlos” (Madrid), and Dean of its Faculty Law. Besides many scientific research works he has published numerous articles in the national Spanish newspapers (El País, El Mundo, ABC and La Razón).

Frank Baasner

After studying literature and psychology at the Universities of Bonn, Tübingen and Paris he gained a PhD with a thesis on “The European Enlightenment”. Since 1995 he holds a chair in Romance Literature at the University of Mannheim. He has been visiting professor in Austria, Spain and Sweden. In 2003, Frank Baasner was elected member of the Academy of Science and Literature of Mainz. Since 2002 he has been the director of the Franco-German Institute of Ludwigsburg.

Yves Barou

Polytechnician and PhD in Economics, Yves Barou has followed a career with Rhône-Poulenc and Thales in France and the USA with operational responsibilities and human resources. From 1998 to 2000, he was Deputy Director of the Social Affairs Ministry, responsible for employment, training and working time. As Human Resources Director of the Thales group he signed two major European agreements. Since 2010 he has been a Social Advisor for the FSI, the French Sovereign Fund and Associate Professor at the HEC. He chairs the European Human Resources Directors’ Committee.

Joachim Bitterlich

German Ambassador (retired) and former diplomatic and security advisor to Chancellor Helmut Kohl, Joachim Bitterlich joined Veolia Environnement as Executive Vice-President for International Affairs in February 2003. Since June 2009 he has served as Chairman of Veolia Environnement Germany. Vice-President of the association Notre Europe, he is also Professor at the management school ESCP Europe Paris, and co-founder of the Club Rhénan. He is a member of the Scientific Committee of the Robert Schuman Foundation.

Christian de Boissieu

Professor at the University of Paris I (Panthéon-Sorbonne) since 1980 where he manages post-graduate studies in Banking and Finance. Since 2003 he has been the Chairman of the Economic Analysis Council (CAE) working with the French Prime Minister. He is also a member of the Academy of Technology. He has written a number of books and articles on monetary and financial issues, on economic policy and European integration.

Thierry Chopin

PhD Political Science of the School for Advance Studies in Social Sciences (EHESS, Paris) he is currently Studies Director at the Robert Schuman Foundation. He is associate professor at the Conservatoire National des Arts et Métiers (CNAM). He is Visiting Professor at the Collège d'Europe (Bruges) and he also teaches at Sciences Po and at the Mines Paris Tech. He is an associate expert at the Centre for International Studies and Research (CERI-SciencesPo). He is the author of many books on European issues including (with J.-F. Jamet and C. Lequesne), "L'Europe d'après", Lignes de repères, 2012.

Stefaan De Corte

Senior Research Officer of the Center for European Studies (CES, Brussels), he looks into social, economic and financial issues. Stefaan de Corte has been advisor on economic policies for a former Belgian Foreign Minister and Deputy Prime Minister. He is a Commercial Engineer ; he also holds a Masters in European Economy.

Corinne Deloy

A graduate of Sciences Po Paris and holder of a DEA in Political Science from the University of Paris-Pantheon Sorbonne, she is research manager at the CERI (Sciences Po/ CNRS). She writes the European Elections Monitor for the Robert Schuman Foundation.

Michel Foucher

Geographer and diplomat, professor of applied geopolitics at the Ecole Normale Supérieure (Paris Ulm), he is also a Director at the Institute for Higher National Defence Studies (IHEDN) and a member of the Robert Schuman Foundation's Scientific Committee. He served as the French Ambassador in Latvia, advisor to Hubert Védrine and director of the Policy Planning Staff of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He has published many books including L'Europe et l'avenir du monde (éditions Odile Jacob, 2009), La Bataille des cartes (2nd edition, François Bourin Publishing, 2011) and L'obsession des frontières (3rd edition Perrin Tempus 2012).

Jean-Dominique Giuliani

Chairman of the Robert Schuman Foundation, Jean-Dominique Giuliani was a director at the SOFRES and head of staff in René Monory's cabinet (President of the French Senate 1992-1998). He has notably published Un Européen très pressé (Editions du Moment, 2008), L'élargissement de l'Europe (PUF "Que Sais-je ?", 2004), "Quinze + Dix", le grand élargissement (Albin Michel, 2003), as well as "Plaidoyer pour l'élargissement", et "Atlas des nouveaux membres", a Fondation Robert Schuman Note, No.11, 2002, with J.P. Betbèze, Les 100 mots de l'Europe, PUF, coll. "Que sais-je?", April 2011. He co-directed with P. Joannin the Atlas permanent de l'Union européenne, Lignes de repères, 2012.

Nicole Gnesotto

"Agrégée" in Modern Literature and a postgraduate in history (DEA) from the University of Paris I-Panthéon Sorbonne, Nicole Gnesotto is a tenured professor and Chair of the Department of European Union, Institutions and Policies at the CNAM and Vice President of the association Notre Europe. She is former Director of the European Union Institute for Security Studies. She is a specialist in Europe and strategic issues and notably the author of La politique de sécurité et de défense de l'UE – Les cinq premières années (EUISS, 2005), Le monde en 2025 (co-produced with Giovanni Grevi, Robert Laffont, 2007), Notre Europe together with Michel Rocard (Robert Laffont, 2008) and L'Europe a-t-elle un avenir stratégique ? (Armand Colin, 2011).

Pierre Hassner

A specialist in International Relations and Geopolitical Relations, Pierre Hassner is "agrégé" in Philosophy and an alumnus of the Ecole Normale Supérieure. In 1959 he became a researcher for the CERI at Sciences Po, then Research Director. He is now an associate researcher. A member of the editorial committee of the review Survival, winner of the Alexis de Tocqueville Prize in 2003, member of the Academy of Arts and Sciences, Mr Hassner became a Doctor Honoris Cause of the UQAM in 2008. He is the author of many publications including Violence and peace: from the atomic bomb to ethnic cleansing, (1997), La terreur et l'Empire – La violence et la paix II (2003) as well as Justifier la guerre ? De l'humanitaire au contre-terrorisme (with Gilles Andréani), Presses de Sciences Po, 2005.

Jean-Paul Herteman

A graduate of the Ecole Polytechnique, engineer of the Ecole Nationale Supérieure de l'Aéronautique et de l'Espace (Supaero), Jean-Paul Herteman is CEO of the SAFRAN group and Chairman of the French Aviation and Space Industries Federation (GIFAS). He is also Vice-President of the General Arms Council (2010), Chair of the French Defence Industries Council (CIDEF) and Chair of the Aerospace and Defence Industries Association of Europe (ASD).

Steven Hill

A writer and columnist who lives in the USA, Steven Hill is the co-founder of FairVote and former Director of the Political Reform Program at the New America Foundation. He has written many books, notably 10 Steps to Repair American Democracy and more recently Europe's Promise : Why the European Way Is the Best Hope for an Insecure Age, University of California, 2010. He also publishes a monthly column in the Social Europe Journal.

Jean-François Jamet

Economist, alumnus of the Ecole Normale Supérieure (Ulm) and of the Harvard University, Jean-François Jamet has taught at Sciences Po. He is an engineer (graduate of the Ecole des Mines) and has been a consultant for the World Bank (2007-2008) and since 2009 he has been on secondment at the European Commission. He is notably the author of "L'Europe, peut-elle se passer d'un gouvernement économique?", La Documentation française, Coll "Réflexe Europe – Débats" and he wrote with Guillaume Klossa "Europe, la dernière chance?" Armand Colin, 2011. His most recent book (with T. Chopin and C. Lequesne) "L'Europe d'après", Lignes de repères, 2012.

Pascale Joannin

General Manager of the Robert Schuman Foundation, Pascale Joannin is a Lecturer at the Ecole Nationale d'Administration (ENA), former auditor of the Institute for Higher National Defence Studies (IHEDN), she is the author of "L'Europe, une chance pour la femme", Note by the Robert Schuman Foundation No22, 2004. She co-directed with J-D. Giuliani "L'Atlas permanent de l'Union européenne", Lignes de repères, 2012.

Jean-Pierre Jouyet

Jean-Pierre Jouyet has been Chairman of France's independent financial regulatory body, the l'Autorité des marchés financiers since December 2008. He was previously Minister of State for European Affairs (2007-2008), Head of the Inspectorate-General of Finances, (2005-2007), Ambassador in charge of International Economic Issues at the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs (2004-2005), Head of the French Treasury from 2000 to 2004. Deputy Principal Secretary to Prime Minister from 1997 to 2000; he has also worked in the private sector as Chairman of Barclays Bank France in 2005 and Associate Lawyer with Jeantet Associés 1995-1997. He was Deputy Head and then Head of the Private Office of the President of the European Commission (1991-1995).

Jean-Pierre Jouyet chairs the Board of the Pasteur Institute, the Follow-Up Committee for the Appointment ENA graduates and the Follow-Up Committee of the Aspen Institute. He is also associate professor at the University of Paris-Dauphine. He has written several books notably Nous les avons tant aimés, with Editions Robert Laffont (2010).

Alain Lamassoure

Former French Foreign and European Affairs Minister then Budget Minister, he is a former member of the European Convention. At present he is MEP (European People's Party, EPP), he is Vice-President of the French delegation of the EPP group and Chair of the European Parliament's Budgets Committee.

Mathilde Lemoine

PhD in Economics from the Institute for Political Studies in Paris (Sciences Po) and a graduate of the University Paris Dauphine, Mathilde Lemoine is Director of Economic Studies and Market Strategy for HSBC France. She has also been teaching at Sciences Po since 1997 and is a member of the Economic Analysis Council (CAE) as well as of the Economic Committee of the Nation (CEN). Mathilde Lemoine was a member of the Liberation of Growth Committee (2010).

Wilfried Martens

Belgian lawyer and politician, Wilfried Martens is a graduate of the Universities of Louvain and Harvard; he was Prime Minister of Belgium from 1979 to 1992. Member of the Flemish Christian Democratic Party he was the co-founder in 1976 of the European People's Party (EPP) which he has chaired since 1992. He is the author of Mémoires pour mon pays (Éditions Racine, Brussels) in 2006. He was awarded the Charles V Prize for his contribution to the European Union.

Luis Martinez

PhD in Political Science from Sciences Po, a specialist of the Maghreb and the Middle East, Luis Martinez is Research Director at the CERI, Sciences Po. He was Visiting Professor at the School of International and Public Affairs at Columbia University (New York, 2000-2001) then the University of Montréal (2007-2008). At present he is researching the State in Maghreb, Islamism and Security in the Mediterranean, oil income and democracy. His most recent publication: Violence de la rente pétrolière. Algérie-Irak-Libye. (Presses de Sciences Po, 2010).

Pierre-Antoine Molina

Graduate of the Institute for Political Studies Paris (Sciences Po) and alumnus of the ENA (Copernic). Auditor and then Counsel to the Conseil d'Etat; he notably took part in the study as deputy rapporteur "Pour une meilleure insertion des normes communautaires dans le droit national" (2007). He was also associate lecturer at the IEP of Grenoble.

Olivier Passet

Advisor to the Economic Analysis Council (CAE) with the Prime Minister, Olivier Passet managed the Economy Finance Department of the Strategic Analysis Centre (CAS) from 2006 to 2011. Previously he was head of the Economic, Financial and International Department for the General Planning Commissariat. From 1989 to 2000 he was Projects Manager at the International Division of the Analysis and Forecast Department of the French Observatory for the Economic Situation (OFCE). His work focuses on the regulation of labour markets, business demography and the funding of the economy.

Jean-Claude Trichet

Born in Lyon, Jean-Claude Trichet is an Inspecteur général des Finances and Ingénieur civil des Mines. He is a graduate of the Ecole nationale supérieure des Mines de Nancy, of the Institut d'études politiques de Paris, of the Université de Paris (in economics) and of the Ecole nationale d'administration. He is former under secretary of the French Treasury, former governor of the Banque de France and former president of the European Central Bank as well as former president of the "global economy meeting" of Central Bank governors in Basel. He is presently chairman of the Group of 30.

Statistics

Franck Lirzin

Economist and graduate of the Ecole polytechnique and of the School for Advanced Studies in the Social Sciences (EHESS); he is also a graduate of the Ecole des Mines. His specialities are monetary policy, European economy and macro-finance. He teaches at the Ecole Centrale of Marseilles and at the Institute for Political Studies in Aix-en-Provence.

Sebastian Paulo

Graduate of the Institute for Political Studies of Paris (Sciences Po) and of the Collège d'Europe (Bruges), he worked as a consultant and research assistant for institutions including the OECD's Development Centre and the European Union's Security Studies Institute. He is a lecturer at Sciences Po.

Maps

Pascal Orcier

A graduate of the Ecole Normale Supérieure (ENS Lyons), agrégé in geography, he is a specialist of the Baltic and teaches at the Lycée Jean Moulin Draguignan (83); he is a researcher at the University of Lyon III. He is the author of the "Atlas: La Lettonie en Europe" (Zvaigzne ABC/Belin 2005) and contributor to various books which have been published since.

Translators

Rachel Ischoffen

Helen Levy